Philosophy

With my consulting services, I bring over 25 years of college-prep, classroom teaching and academic advising experience, grades 5 to 12.

My focus is collaborating with students, helping them find their strengths, and developing skills and strategies that enable them to achieve success.

Finding incremental successes and practicing a growth mindset, my pupils experience boosts in confidence and find themselves increasingly independent and confident as students. I have proven success with all types of learners and use resources that I have developed over decades.
